Description

McCann School of Business & Technology is a small two-year, private for-profit school with 2,610 students enrolled. McCann School of Business was founded by Louis C. McCann. His sons, Dwight and Charles entered the field and held administrative positions not only at the Mahanoy City School, but in branch schools later established. After the death of Dwight McCann in 1956, Mrs. Dorothy Houser began serving as director. In 1959, Mrs. Houser purchased the school in partnership with her husband, Harry D. Houser. In 1970, McCann became fully accredited by the Accrediting Commission of the Association of Independent Colleges and Schools of Washington, D.C. The education association, now known as Accrediting Council for Independent Colleges and Schools, is recognized by the U.S. Department of Education as the national accrediting body for private business schools and colleges.
